

JAKUB PATECKI

Polish YouTuber, influencer and traveler

Jakub "Patec" Patecki is a Polish YouTuber, influencer and traveler. He was born on 30 September 1997. His internet-career began with a channel called "WszystkoVlog". In 2019 he joined the group 'Ekipa Friza', which significantly raised his popularity among younger audiences in Poland. Later, after parting ways with the group, he focused on his own independent content — mainly traveling, adventures and lifestyle. His channel is called 'PatecWariatec'.

Key Milestones & Achievements

In May 2024, Jakub Patecki successfully climbed Mount Everest — the highest mountain in the world. What made this even more meaningful: he combined the Everest expedition with a charity campaign for children battling cancer — raising nearly 900,000 PLN for that cause. This is his biggest and most widely recognized accomplishment. This achievement placed him among a very small group of Polish climbers and even fewer influencers who have done it.

Global Traveling & Extreme Adventure Projects

Patecki is known for high-energy, adventure-based content. His achievements include:

- traveling across South America, Asia, India, Bali, Brazil, and the Amazon rainforest
- creating a large travel series, including “80 Days Around the World”
- documenting survival-style and extreme trips in difficult conditions
- showing places rarely visited by mainstream influencers

His travels are not “tourist style” — they often involve risk, challenges, and physical endurance.

Project 27 - New Expedition Series

After climbing Everest, Patecki announced Project 27, an ambitious challenge involving multiple extreme locations and new expeditions around the world.

One of the goals mentioned is to climb Mount Vinson, the highest peak of Antarctica — part of the “Seven Summits”.
